Performance Trends

In the 2021/22 academic year, the average CGPA for Semester 2 (3.53) was noticeably lower than that of Semester 1 (3.69). However, by the 2022/23 academic year, the average CGPA for both semesters converged at 3.82. This convergence continued into the 2023/24 academic year, with both semesters achieving an average CGPA of 3.86. This suggests that while there was an initial difference in performance between the two semesters, particularly in the 2021/22 academic year, the average academic performance has become more aligned in the subsequent years, with both semesters showing improvement over the initial period.
